Reference Letter Bosch Sprang

Bosch Sprang has showed us to be a reliable and experience supplier of thermoform tools in many packaging projects we have realised together.

The passionate discussion between engineers of Bosch Sprang and Kiefel have led to the highest level of product quality, output and reliability.

The excellent Bosch Sprang know-how of products and tooling for cups in tilting machines combined with the process and machinery know-how of Kiefel always lead to fruitful solutions for our customers.

The tools we ordered have operated reliable with a minimum of maintenance costs. The skilled process engineers of Bosch Sprang and Kiefel provided always dedicated service to our common customers.

The vision of Bosch Sprang to invest continuously in research and development programs has brought them to one of the leading companies in technology of thermoform tools.
